Subject: Microsoft Settlement

Dear Sirs:

We are of the opinion that enough has been done to Microsoft re: its problems with the Department of Justice. There has been a fair settlement upon which dedicated men have agreed after a most lengthy process. Surely now is the time for the remaining states to agree to come together and begin to serve the public in its wishes for an end to this matter. Further litigation will only serve to disrupt consumer confidence and our economy, and cost many more thousands and thousands of dollars (most likely in the millions, actually). Kindly put a stop to this and ask the remaining entities to agree to that which has gone before. Thank you. Barbara Cody
